

Oil - not just a simple condiment.

Olive or Seed Oils, are nowadays a must in every kitchen and on every table. Because oil is a main ingredient of our diet, and thus of our culture, too.

Giorgio Armani

From traceable and sustainable oils to 100% Italian and EU cold-extracted Extra virgin oils, from flavoured oils and vinegars to special and organic oils: Zucchi offers a wide range of alternatives to make every recipe special.

The Traceable and Sustainable Extra Virgin Olive Oils

Zucchi has created the first Extra Virgin Olive Oils coming from a certified sustainable supply chain, founded on respect for the environment and for workers' rights and opportunities, and constructed with fair rewards for individual labour. Accurate selection of raw materials ensures consumers receive a high quality product, with stricter standards than those prescribed by law. The production process is transparent at every step: thanks to QR code on the bottle, consumers can discover the origin of the blend, the cultivars and all the sustainability standard.

From a small family business to a major oil producer: the success of a great tradition

Oleificio Zucchi originated in 1810 in the area near Lodi as a family business that milled oilseeds to make oil for human consumption. 1922 saw the introduction of the refining process, and at the end of the 1950s, Oleificio Zucchi entered into the mass market for seed and Olive Oils.

In the 1990s, the company's constant growth made it necessary to move the business to the current site of 80,000 m² on the Cremona navigation canal, with production capacity increased up to 1.500.000 litres/day of packaged oil, nine highly automated lines, state-of-the-art technology and a Research and Development laboratory with an in-house team of skilled blendmasters for the performance of continual panel tests and the creation of the best blends. This specific team focuses on Extra Virgin Olive, combining technical expertise and talent to achieve unique results of unrivalled excellence, through constant experimentation with new combinations of flavours. The art of blending is the ability to create an oil with a specific personality by putting together oils from different cultivars and origins for an end result that is greater than the sum of its parts, to suit various consumer taste categories. To deliver an excellent oil with unchanging quality over time, Oleificio Zucchi has also created an "OIL CELLAR", Italy's largest temperature-controlled storage facility (at a constant 16°C/61°F), capable of storing about 4800 tonnes of Extra Virgin Olive oil with all its sensory characteristics intact.

Oleificio Zucchi has an established policy of continuous investments, updating its plant in line with the latest technical and engineering concepts for ever-improving environmental and economic sustainability.

This pursuit of the highest sustainable quality has been rewarded by the many process and product certifications achieved over the years, and is now expressed by projects intended to add value to every link in the production chain.

THE QUALITY CERTIFICATION PROCESS

Company success

Apart from the excellence of its products, Oleificio Zucchi's success has been built on the 4 plus factors central to its modus operandi, which also give it a firm orientation towards the future.

Quality

Oleificio Zucchi constantly invests in efficiency and safety, so its customers are only offered the best. This is guaranteed by meticulous selection of raw materials, creation of the best blends, strict control of sensory characteristics, high-tech quality analysis, continual investments in technologies and the many environmental and quality certifications held.

Packaging

Alongside our R&D and tasting laboratory, we have also created a research and design laboratory to develop the best pack formats and the best customised printing to bestow the highest value-added on every product. A service that considers every aspect, constantly analysing and developing packaging using innovative materials with low environmental impact.

Corporate Responsibility

Certification under the SA 8000 standard in 2011, focused on the adoption of social and ethically aware business practices, is only the latest step in a process that bears witness to the company's daily commitment to Corporate Social Responsibility.

Logistics

Shipping procedures responsive to the customer's needs: selection and planning of the best logistics solutions for every requirement, with a special focus on delivery times, advisory services, quality and freight costs.
